

Geography Country Brochure Project

Create a travel brochure for an American tourist. Your brochure should include important information such as major cities (populations), type of currency (and exchange rate), languages, climate, time zones (hours ahead or behind here), leisure activities, festivals, resources, and products of this country. Be sure to include any interesting tips to help tourists (your age) make the most of their visit to this fascinating country. Also, include maps and pictures in your brochure.
